When Sparkers Meetup in NYC, What do they do?

Tuesday, May 23, 2017

Ride the Carrousel in Bryant Park!

Here we are with "Patience" one of the lions guarding the New York Public Library

The Exhibit "Love in Venice" was especially meaningful when you have an art teacher as your guide.
Thank you Phebe!

We ate a delicious, healthy lunch and talked all afternoon
One more Sparker to meet.

My DD Jeannie (Hayburner1969) in a recital at Carnegie Hall

Not the sold out one. The evening performance of competition winners.

This was her practice time.

We were not allowed photographs or recording during the performance itself.

She was one of a distinguished international field of pianists from Germany, Norway, Italy, China and Japan as well as the USA.

Jeannie and I both ran in Central Park

Sunday morning it was a lot more crowded when 40,000 participated in the Aids Walk

This isn't Central Park

Once an elevated train ran along 10th Avenue.
The rusted abandon track has been replaced with a 1.4 mile park called the "High Line"
The trees, shrubs and flowers are all cared for by volunteers.

I did not climb to the top observation deck

Just took in the view from the path.
The warehouses of the old meatpacking district are now valuable real estate.

Finally, here is my DH who as “stealth sparker” has the energy and is willing to follow me anywhere.

Late edit:

How could I forget to say that Jeannie's performance was fantastic!
The entire program was great and very well received by the audience.

Sounds like you had a wonderful time, Jeannie's concert of course a highlight, but to have your husband there to enjoy it with was also special. Then to meet two sparkfriends and spend some time with them as well as share the joy of Jeannie's talents and success-what a beautiful weekend.

Your pictures are great. What an awesome, whirlwind weekend you had.

As one of the guilty parties named and visible (wearing the orange top) in BB's blog, I'm happy to say that our Saturday get-together was wonderful. It was my second time in the excellent company of BB and Stealth Sparker (lower case only because he isn't an official SP member) and my third in the excellent company of PHEBESS and, even better, the first of all of us in one place at the same time. The perfect bonus was attending HAYBURNER's concert and meeting her and her family afterward.

This was a bonanza weekend. Same time next year?
